I am a young vibrant male who is, driven and focused. Learning is something I am always open to. I love associating with like-minded people whose goal is to complete a task efficiently and in a friendly manner. Very good at working in teams to solve any problem handed to us. I am time conscious when assessing a problem and approaching solutions.

OBJECTIVES

I am seeking a permanent, challenging and competitive environment where I can learn and expand my knowledge. Also, I am seeking a position within which my skills encompass and beyond in hope to offer the organisation my fullest potential and build my career in the Tech Industry. I am ready to take up any task entrusted to me Always ready to learn something new and apply my best ability.
